

Cultural Ecology of the Lower 9th Ward

IN OTHER	NAME	RELATION	PERSONAL DESCRIPTION
	Elizabeth	Wife
	Schroeder Elizabeth	Daughter
	William Thomas	Son
	Anna	Wife
	Margaret	Daughter
	Mary	Daughter
	John	Son
	Thomas	Son
	John	Son
	Paul	Son
	William	Son
	John	Son
	Robert	Son
	Thomas	Son
	John	Son
	Thomas	Son
	John	Son
	Thomas	Son

PLACE OF ABODE	NAME	RELATION	PERSONAL DESCRIPTION
914	Mrs Anna	Wife
	Robert	Son
	Mary	Daughter
921	Mrs Thomas	Wife
	John	Son
	Mary	Daughter
923	Mrs Thomas	Wife
	John	Son
	Mary	Daughter
925	Mrs Thomas	Wife
	John	Son
	Mary	Daughter
929	Mrs Thomas	Wife
	John	Son
	Mary	Daughter
931	Mrs Thomas	Wife
	John	Son
	Mary	Daughter

LOCATION	HOUSEHOLD DATA	NAME	RELATION	PERSONAL DESCRIPTION
421	27 R 13	Mrs Lydia	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
425	27 R 13	Mrs John	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
428	27 R 13	Mrs John	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
432	27 R 13	Mrs John	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
435	27 R 13	Mrs John	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
441	27 R 13	Mrs John	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter

LOCATION	HOUSEHOLD DATA	NAME	RELATION	PERSONAL DESCRIPTION
814	220 R 11	Mrs Anna	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
816	221 R 10	Mrs Anna	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
820	222 R 100	Mrs Anna	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
824	222 R 115	Mrs Anna	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter
830	224 R 100	Mrs Anna	Wife
		John	Son
		Mary	Daughter

“No city perhaps on the globe presents a greater contrast of national manners, language, and complexion, than does New Orleans.”

- a visitor, 1816

Lower 9th area was home for mostly German and Irish immigrants, as well as African Americans.

1880

1900

1920

1940

Inner Harbor Navigation Canal, 1923

The Industrial Canal severs the Lower 9th Ward from the rest of the city, exacerbating its isolation.

Overlooking the Industrial Canal, 1957

On the bridge at the Industrial Canal, 1957

Population by race

Desegregation efforts

- White
- Black
- Other

source: Social Explorer

Changes in the Lower 9th landscape, post-Katrina

Population recovery, by neighborhood

State of Holy Cross neighborhood, 2012

1. "The Changing Landscape of the Lower Ninth Ward," nytimes.com; 2. "Mapping the Recovery of New Orleans," nytimes.com; 3. whodata.org

New Orleans has considered returning flood-prone parts of the city back to wet-land, including parts of the Lower 9th.

Bayou Bienvenue, now & then

New Orleans undergoing subsidence

MRGO-Must-Go, initiative

Carolyn Parker

still shot: "I'm Carolyn Parker, The Good, the Mad, and the Beautiful," 2011

Strong, vigilant public characters become a voice for the neighborhood.

Lower 9th residents have always relied on internal support systems.

Make it Right, Brad Pitt

Celebrities as spokespeople sustain media attention and national interest in the redevelopment of the Lower 9th.

Documentary, Spike Lee

Media cultivates sentimental reactions that favor of the rebuilding of the Lower 9th.

HCNA voted to oppose bringing in MU-1 zoning (medium intensity mixed use) into the neighborhood, as drafted in the new City Zoning Ordinance.

HCNA rejected the proposal by Perez APC mixed-use development on the former Holy Cross College, 3-block campus. The 85' height, massing, and modern style is opposed. Artists and musicians move to Holy Cross for the bucolic feel.

Holy Cross Historical District

Holy Cross College

Occupation

source: Social Explorer

21st C | Does the Lower 9th aspire for pre-Katrina days, or something more?